“MALALA ACHIEVERS AWARD TO WOMEN WITH DISABILITY – 2014”

MALALA award is the eminence and pride for the Society for the Rights of Women with Disabilities. A girl well known and spoken about in UN and international level namely MALALA is a great social activist who stood for the welfare and rights of women and the society finds women such as brave, courage to raise voice for the welfare and awards them to encourage their work to be continued. And our Society started awarding women with disability from the last year. Last year the Award was given on the basis of best supporters of women with disability. The award was given to able bodied women who had supported the women with disability.

SFRAWD empowers Women & Girls to improve their lives, their communities and their world forever. Our Society plans to help Women & Girls access their right to protection, basic education, proper healthcare, a healthy environment, livelihood opportunities, participation in decisions which affect their lives through advocacy and lobbying. The society works to build a stronger and more united disability movement with significant focus on different discrimination or any other form of marginalization.

Further to this our society encourages women with disabilities to organize among themselves to form their own association and work for the betterment of the society they live in and the full support is rendered from the society in all the needs of the associations created in the different parts of the State. The society also organizes many programs for empowering the leaders of the associations through training programs on effective leadership, vocational training like handicraft work, organizes games for women with disability.

Our society members participate in worldwide and nationwide Seminars, policy making meetings and conferences on welfare of women with disabilities and raise suggestions. Thus the society has participated in USA and Australia Conferences. Our society works with all the women with disability and that's the focus of our society.

UN secretary Mr. Bankimun said that the population of persons with disability are 100 crore in the whole world and in India 10 crore persons with disability are living – World Bank. Less than half of the population is women with disability. As UNCRPD convention recommends the Countries to protect the rights of women with disability. India has signed this convention and the newly incubating bills should safe guarding the rights of women with disability has obliged to care the welfare of women with disability.

Though there are government orders, welfare schemes and some basic rights are there in Tamil Nadu State, the society on the day of program would emphasis on some more special provisions and special projects to empower women with disability. The federation for Tamil Nadu Differently abled Association in its work organized 13 campaigns where many demands where brought out and recommended the Tamil Nadu Government.

On the day of awarding the Society for the Rights of Women with Disabilities organizes public hearing for women with disabilities where and in which various problems faced by the women with disability will be brought out and make each and every one aware about the provisions given by the central and state government, certain social activist in their respective living area, and certain lawyers personals.

On the day of remembrance of the persons with disability our society in collaboration with the department of Persons with Disability, NGO's working for the welfare of the disabled women, social workers and with all the people who help the associations Organize and celebrate the day by awarding the MALALA Award to selected persons.
