

CHALTE RAHO

- BY ALF ASSIST

What is Chalte Raho

- Chalte Raho is a walking stick that stimulates movement in Parkinson's patients with freezing of gait.
- Parkinson's is a neurological disorder that is mainly characterized by problems with body movements.
- Parkinson's patients are usually above the age of 50. They have various different symptoms ranging from tremors and freezing of gait to depression and anxiety.

How does it work ?

Chalte Raho enables PD patients to overcome freezing and walk freely.

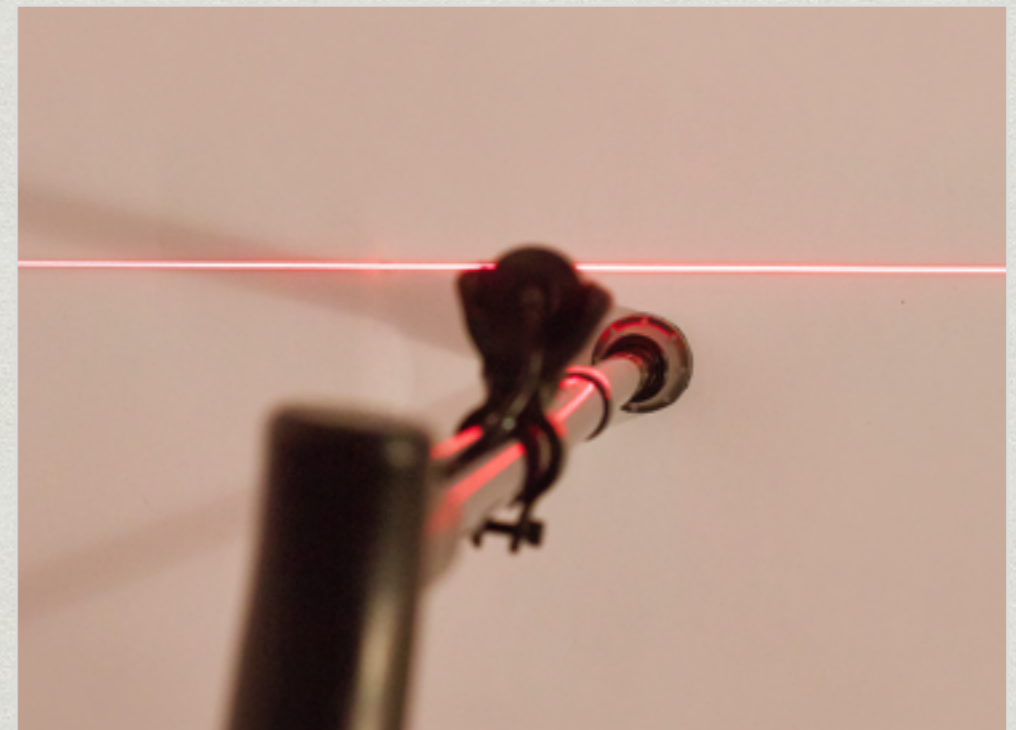

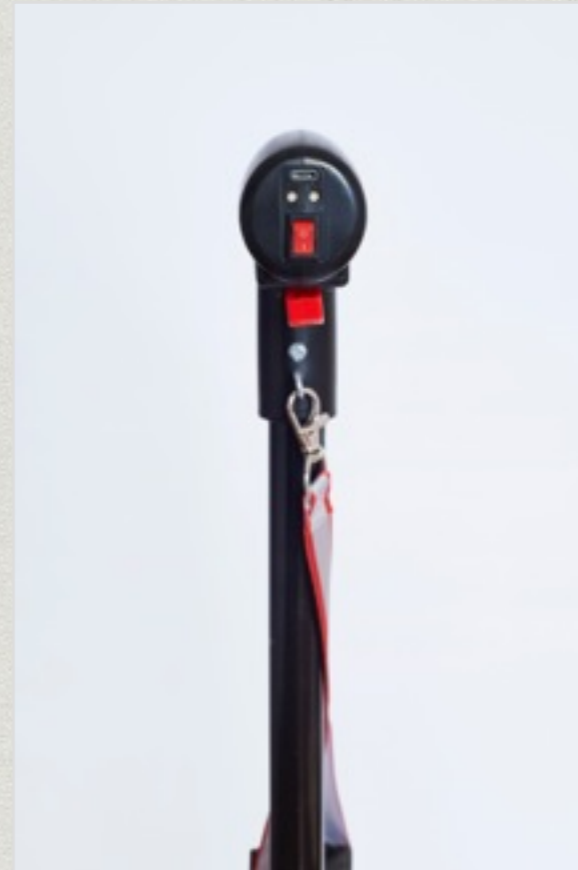

The patient switches on the stick before he/she begins walking.

As soon as the patient experiences freezing he/she presses the button under the handle.

A laser line projected on the floor provides the patient with an external cue. He/she steps over the line and continues walking.
